Yesterday marked the anniversary of the nation's worst school bus disaster. A disaster that happened right here in Floyd County, a mere three miles from the county seat, when the lives of 26 children and their bus driver were claimed by the muddy waters of the Big Sandy River.

Jackie Branham Hall, of Spurlock, was 13 years old at the time of the tragedy. She attended Prestonsburg Elementary School, along with many of the children who were on that bus. At the age of seven, Hall says that she had a dream that a school bus was falling from the sky - a dream that so disturbed her that she never forgot it. "When I heard about the bus wreck, it was just like something hit me smack dab right in the middle of the eyes. That dream came right back to my mind," she said.

Generation 9

In the years that followed, Hall took it upon herself to gather together a scrap book of newspaper articles and any bits of information pertaining to the accident. As an adult, she searched court records and interviewed survivors of the crash, as well as the families of the victims. "So many people don't like to talk about it," Hall said. "For one, there has been so much written that was in error, along with a lot of speculation...And there's just a lot of guilt, though it wasn't anybody's fault. People are real careful about what they say and those who survived are very protective of one another, as well as protective about the memories of the classmates who didn't."

Hall, through her relentless checking of detail after detail, wanting to ensure that every fact contained in her book, "Portrait of a Disaster: A pictorial history of the 1958 school bus disaster," can be backed up as truth, has thereby gained the trust of both the survivors and the families of those that perished.

Today, we share with you the story of that Black Friday morning as told to Hall by survivor Martha Burchett Marsh, Donald "Dootney" Horn, and several others she has interviewed throughout the years:

"Fifty years have passed but not the pain of that Black Friday. At 5:30 a.m., on February 28, 1958, coal miner Banner Burchett climbed into his pickup truck. On his way to work at Skyline Coal Co., in Evanston, Burchett reached across his front seat in search of his carbide light. The left front tire of his truck dropped off the pavement as he reached for his light, causing his pickup to slide into the ditch along U.S. 23, between Knotley Hollow and Lancer.

Donald "Dootney" Horn, on his own way to work at Horn Brothers Junk and Salvage Co., located at Sugarloaf, stopped to inquire about the ditched pickup. The two men decided to remove the truck from the ditch and park it across the road by the home of Bennie Blackburn.

Horn backed his tow truck into the Knotley Hollow turnoff just as Floyd County School Bus No. 27 pulled off the road at Burchett's house to pick up the eight children who were waiting there to board.

Horn pulled out around the bus and proceeded northward back to the ditched pickup. School Bus No. 27 pulled out behind him.

Those on the bus have said that as bus driver John Alex DeRossett shifted gears and picked up speed, all seemed well. Not one surviving child reported noticing a problem with any of the previous stops and starts along the way.

DeRossett was well into his second run of the morning as he picked up the 40 children from the Emma, Cow Creek and Sugarloaf areas. It was approximately 8:05 a.m. when he picked up the waiting eight children at Knotley Hollow.

As the bus pulled out behind Horn's wrecker, survivors remember that they and their friends and classmates were engaged in lively chatter. It was Friday, the week almost over and many were looking

Notes for Charlotte Anne Hudson:

Please keep in mind that many surnames in my Family tree are not direct and all the info in the file is all that I have at this time. My primary surnames of interest are Harrison & Brice, Clark, Culp, Owen & McDonald. Major connecting surnames are : DUNN, PITZER, OSBORN/OSBORNE. I will not be able to answer any questions on surnames in my file that are very minor, so keep this in mind before contacting me. If no parents are listed for an individual, then I do not have any names in my files.
